

It's About Technology...

Technology has become the primary business tool for success, and yet many companies and organizations don't have the resources needed to properly design, implement and manage the systems that drive their businesses.

ITI's strength lies in evaluating clients' business and technical environments and creating technical strategic plans. Specializing in the latest technologies, ITI designs, implements and manages leading-edge information technology systems and solutions. For companies that already have strategic information technology plans in place, ITI helps implement and maintain technology solutions.

ITI is the area's leading provider of world-class call centers and technology help desks. Our extensive experience allows us to offer creative, cost-effective solutions to achieve each client's desired level of service.

ITI is a market leader in deploying hardware procurement and expense management systems. ITI's customized procurement services save clients time and money.

Let ITI make technology work for you.

It's About People...

When it comes to getting the best trained, most experienced information technology professionals, there's no better source than ITI.

Staff augmentation or special projects? Don't have the time or resources necessary to recruit and hire technical staff? Need a project manager or specialized resources? Call ITI.

Temp or perm? Not sure whether you need someone on a temporary or permanent basis? Want a trial run? Interested in temp-to-perm contracts? Call ITI.

Need more than the traditional contractor? Take advantage of TEAM—Technical Employee Advantage Matrix—an exclusive program of ITI that packages technology solutions and services with each ITI associate.

Need the best? ITI finds the people who are the best for the client's technical and work environments. ITI screens over 100 resumes daily in search of information technology professionals that have the expertise and experience clients demand. Only after a potential associate goes through a rigorous testing and interview process does ITI offer the candidate to the client for consideration.

Whatever your needs, ITI can meet them.

It's About Time...

Time to partner with a company that can help you improve and keep your competitive edge. Time to develop a long-term relationship with a company you can trust to put your business priorities first.

Commitment. ITI is committed to developing and maintaining partnerships with clients. ITI works closely with clients to ensure that they leverage technology and implement cost-effective solutions in support of business goals.

Flexibility. ITI responds quickly and conforms to your business needs, creating a win-win situation for clients and associates. Consistently, ITI is willing to do whatever it takes, including flexible work hours, compensation plans and contracts. With this flexibility, ITI exceeds your expectations.

Team approach. When you use an ITI associate, you not only get the employee, you get the company and its vast resources, too. ITI provides its associates a support network of technical experts to assist with problem solving. Through our unique Technical Employee Advantage Matrix—TEAM—clients get more value when combining packaged services and solutions with on-site ITI associates.

Personal attention. ITI offers the unique combination of size and corporate stability while guaranteeing clients the personal attention they deserve.

Quality. While many companies claim it, ITI proves it: our best assets are our associates. We select only the most qualified professionals. Then we provide our associates competitive salaries, excellent benefits, fast-paced career paths and ongoing training. This allows ITI to retain skilled professionals in a very transient market. This stability is critical for building a long-term relationship and maintaining continuity with you.
